What our consumers say...

Ali Shumary, Tirgris

Our client required thorough and cost-value decontaminating cleaning in a large number of construction cabins throughout various building sites in the UK-our clients comments after Germfree's services were complete, were exceptionally positive.

David Hennesy, Metrolink

We employed Germfree to embark on various COVID 19 disinfections throughout the very first wave of the pandemic. They were professional and reliable. It gave our staff assurance that there were experts routinely sanitizing their trains.»

Jonathon Wright,
Co-operate Financing HMD

The team worked tirelessly throughout the evening to ensure our workplace were devoid of any type of lingering Coronavirus. Having returned today, I am so pleased with the out-come. I can tell how well this place has been sanitized

Industrial cleaning

If you require high level cleaning within your industrial building, then Germsfree can assist you with these services. We have licenced operatives to be able to undertake such work. They can safely manoeuvre hydraulic cranes near high-out of reach girding's, roofs, shelving units and alike. Germsfree can provide you with other alternatives to high level cleaning within industrial buildings, where the use of a hydraulic cranes would prove inaccessible. Our operatives have cleaned many industrialised buildings such as; warehouse's, and processing factories. Our skilled and resourceful operations lead technicians can attend to complete a site survey at your premises in order of assessing what the job requires to be able to start the cleaning process, and the specific equipment and chemicals required to successfully complete the work.

Specialist Cleaning

Our in-house teams of qualified and experienced extreme cleaning technicians use the latest and best equipment, techniques and chemicals to resolve the toughest emergency cleaning challenges that are beyond the scope of standard cleaning. We provide our clients with vital business continuity and compliance support.

We also apply advanced floor deep cleaning treatments and anti-slip coatings that quantifiably reduce the risk of slips and trips, and the reputational damage they cause. Specialist cleaning services at Germsfree can range from; pigeon guano cleaning, sewage and flood emergency response cleaning services, COVID-19 decontamination, graffiti removal, hoarder and filth cleaning services, fly tip removal and cleaning services, kitchen and air vent cleaning, infection control cleaning services and so much more!

Oil Spill Cleaning

Germsfree have responded to many oil spill accidents. Our technicians for aiding the removal of oil safely, and environmentally friendly involve using certain oil spill kits which support the recovery of that environment without additional hazardous contamination. In some circumstances, oil can become contaminated in local water supplies, which then put your-self and your business at risk of being subject to a health and safety penalty. When called up on to attend a business premises or out-door environment which has been contaminated with oil, our skilled and experienced technicians work hard to ensure this does not become a risk for you and others.

Germfree's Bio Hazard and Trauma cleaning services

How we ensure the area is made safe and free from bodily fluids or hazardous materials...

- Technicians wear full PPE such as; overalls, gloves, boots/wellies, (goggles) and facemasks to protect them-selves from harm.
- They dispose of hazardous waste into yellow hazardous bags/clinical waste bags to prevent cross contamination and ensure non-hazardous waste is appropriately disposed.
- Decontamination cleaning methods in the area which has been affected to ensure bodily fluids are not contaminated clean areas. All cleaning materials are disposed of once used- all materials are not utilised in non-contaminated/affected areas.
- We administer electrostatic disinfection chemicals where the trauma has occurred. It reaches further and wider surface areas. Higher and often more intricate areas such as; grooves, which are often very difficult to adequately clean benefit from this.
- If decomposition has occurred, we will also administer additional anti-pest solvents such as a pesticide in the area affected.
- Upon request, Germfree will remove all hazardous waste products off-site and safely dispose at an incineration waste transfer centre.

Restoration services

Germfree provide comprehensive fire, flood, and sewage restoration services throughout the UK, delivering exceptional standards of cleaning through our professional, skilled & experienced cleaning teams. We have been serving hundreds of commercial and domestic customers with the highest possible standards of cleaning within the emergency responsive services. Our dedicated and professional restoration service team are dedicated to respond quickly and effectively in order of restoring an area back to a clean safe space once again.

Commercial Cleaning Services

We provide cleaning services within many of the commercial sectors as well as public sectors. Germfree have a wide range of capable operatives and cleaning technicians who can facilitate a wide range of requirements, for example professional hard floor and carpet cleaning services, commercial and residential cleaning services, bathroom cleaning services, janitorial services and one-off deep cleaning services. We can ensure your building or home experience a high standard-scheduled cleaning service throughout your offices, schools, leisure facilities, home or otherwise industrial site. Germfree's daily cleaning services in the work environment have contributed towards a safe work space which have allowed members of the public and employees to work as safely as they can when carrying out their work.

Waste management

Germsfree can support your business with the removal of most (if not all) waste produce. We remove all traces of waste from your location as and when requested. Germsfree are waste carrier license holders, meaning that we are a responsible waste disposal company who collect and remove waste products from premises safely, following Government guidelines. Your company is a part of the process involved to ensure waste is properly disposed of.

We have regional and national groups of operatives who routinely provide waste disposal services to numerous clients. WEEE waste, fly tipping, hazardous waste, non hazardous waste, clinical waste, domestic waste, recycling waste, commercial waste and even one-off collections all fall under our service provisions. We can provide you with routine waste removal services as and when you require it. Reactive waste removal services are another in demand service which we can provide for your business with. Generally, waste removal services are a very effective and very necessary service for most of our clients, and that is why we always strive to provide the best possible service to them for the best value.

Building Maintenance

Germsfree can assist you with a variety of essential, bespoke maintenance services. Most maintenance services are planned services, as a building inspection will need to be undertaken prior to any work being completed. We can assist you with large and small projects but you can get to understand more of our delivery when speaking to one of our experienced maintenance lead operatives. Germsfree have a portfolio of experienced, skilled and accredited maintenance teams, whether it is for the use of an electrician, plumber, joiner, plasterer or scaffolding installation. We take pride in knowing how many aspects of your building maintenance we can take on board- leaving you to think about little and us to take control of some of the major responsibilities relating to the day to day functioning of your premises. Confidence is what you will always benefit as well as a job expertly done.

Emergency Management & Business continuity

The concept of Germsfree is to provide our clients with fast, reliable & professional emergency, environmental and restoration- specialist cleaning services. You need to be able to make a fast turn around and recovery from some of the more- at large environmental emergencies which prevent your or your business from continuing to remain open for business as usual. Besides from that, you need to be able to continue running your business safely without causing harm or injury to others if your home or business suffers from any type of mild environmental hazard or accident which could potentially create a continual problem for you, for example: one of your staff toilets have backed up and there is contaminated water within your lower level areas, but it poses a threat to health if left for an unnecessary length of time, plus the fact that there is an unpleasant odour and more importantly prevents your staff from being able to utilise the toilet facilities freely and safely.
